YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF:*(LO ESTÁ DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE):

DANIELLE DYSINGER

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case. ¡AVISO! Lo han demandado. Si no responde dentro de 30 días, la corte puede decidir en su contra sin escuchar su versión. Lea la información a continuación.

Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.

Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remisión a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisitos para obtener servicios legales gratuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.sucorte.ca.gov) o poniéndose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales. AVISO: Por ley, la corte tiene derecho a reclamar las cuotas y los costos exentos por imponer un gravamen sobre cualquier recuperación de $10,000 ó más de valor recibida mediante un acuerdo o una concesión de arbitraje en un caso de derecho civil. Tiene que pagar el gravamen de la corte antes de que la corte pueda desechar el caso.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

CM-010

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

CONTINUING VIOLATIONS

11. The wrongful acts and omissions giving rise to the Defendants' liability in this action commenced in or about 2014 and have been and are "continuing" in nature as of the date of filing this Complaint. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend this Complaint as new and additional facts and claims arise or become known to Plaintiff.

TOLLING DUE TO DURESS AND DISABILITY

12. Plaintiff was incapacitated due to post-traumatic stress disorder caused by Defendant Butler's violent and willful actions, and as a result, was incapable of transacting business or understanding the nature and effect of her actions, and as a result is entitled to equitable tolling of her claim as well as tolling under California Code of Civil Procedure section 352. See, Stoll v. Runyon, (1999) 165 F.3d 1238. Defendant Butler, individually and as a managing agent/officer of Defendant Intel, committed violent sexual assaults on the Plaintiff in the State of California, and such other parts as alleged herein in this Complaint.

13. Further, the wrongful acts of Defendants placed Plaintiff under economic duress. Plaintiff delayed filing suit for the additional reason that she feared for her livelihood and reprisals by Defendants, due in part to being deeply dependent on her job at Intel, which was her sole source income. Defendant Butler exploited his control over her employment by dissuading the Plaintiff from reporting or otherwise engaging in any oppositional activities.

14. Further, Defendants placed Plaintiff under emotional duress to prevent her from filing suit or otherwise complaining of their unlawful acts. Plaintiff contends that Defendant Butler exploited his position and influence and used threats to deter her from coming forward. Under California law, threats and undue influence are both grounds for tolling based on estoppel. "It is well settled that where delay in commencing an action is induced by the conduct of the defendant, he cannot avail himself of the defense of the statute [of limitations]. ## FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Preliminary Statement

15. This case involves a sociopathic and sadistic Intel corporate executive (Defendant Butler) who exerted his power and influence within Intel to create and maintain an unlawful quid pro quo sexual arrangement with a female subordinate. While acting as Defendant Intel's recruiter, Defendant Butler was able to lure a young female college student (Plaintiff) into a becoming his sexual plaything under the guise of working under him as an engineer for Defendant Intel. The immense power and authority bestowed by Defendant Intel to Defendant Butler allowed him to commit sexual abuse and other excesses without any meaningful oversight. Defendant Butler essentially created a position for the Plaintiff so that she would answer to him and no one else. Defendant Butler controlled every aspect of her employment and dominated much of her personal life.

16. The Plaintiff remained under the direct supervision and control of Defendant Butler from December 1, 2014, until September 2016. In just a matter of months, Defendant Butler manipulated and coerced the Plaintiff into accepting a quid pro quo sexual arrangement. Defendant Butler lavished the Plaintiff with promises of guaranteed employment, benefits and promotions while concomitantly resorting to acts of intimidation and sexual violence to quell any sign resistance. Defendant Butler also made known that he personally derived sexual gratification from sadistic sexual practices. During the course of her employment, the Plaintiff endured varying degrees of physical and psychological abuse that included, inter alia, repeated sexual assaults, stalking, manipulation, sexual humiliation and even violent rapes.

17. The Plaintiff has suffered severe emotional distress and physical symptoms as a 1 result of this prolonged harassment, such as nausea, stomach pains, hopelessness, self-harm,

2 eating disorders, isolation, emotional detachment, somatic delusions, panic attacks, headaches, 3 anxiety, loss of sleep, nightmares, depression, hopelessness, embarrassment, humiliation, and 4 loss of self-esteem, among other things.

5 18. The Plaintiff was able to break away from Defendant Butler when she relocated to 6 a different Intel facility located in Santa Clara, California, and was assigned a new supervisor.
7 Unfortunately, the prolonged and cumulative impact of the sexual abuse and violence endured
8 by the Plaintiff led her to suffer traumatic breakdown that left her unable to function at work 9 and forced her to go on disability leave on March 29, 2018.

10 19. While on disability leave, the Plaintiff was able to find treatment to address the 11 cause of her trauma and begin the long and slow road to recovery. The Plaintiff's goal was to 12 continue rehabilitation through intensive therapy so that she could safely return to work.

13 20. On September 9, 2018, and while on disability leave, the Plaintiff reported the 14 entirety of her complaints about her mistreatment to Defendant Intel's HR department.
15 Defendant Intel's investigator met multiple times with the Plaintiff and had even received an 16 extremely detailed written account of the egregious suffering the Plaintiff underwent.

17 On January 23, 2020, Defendant Intel responded by grossly mischaracterizing her reports as 18 amounting to nothing more than mere violations of Defendant Intel's non-fraternization policy
19 — and not violent sexual assault and rape. Plaintiff was left in shock and disbelief that her 20 reporting of sexual abuse was completely futile and sank into a severe and crippling bout of 21 depression. Meanwhile, Defendant Intel succeeded in downplaying and detracting from the 22 severity of the sexual abuse at issue. —

23 21. In effect, Defendant Intel aided and abetted Defendant Butler's sexual misconduct
24 by dismissing the Plaintiff's report of horrific sexual abuse as nothing more than a trifling 25 breach of its anti-fraternization policy. Defendant Intel's dissembling of the truth behind the 26 sexual assaults and rapes reported by the Plaintiff caused her to be retraumatized. Defendant 27 Intel showed its cards and conveyed the message that it would stand by, support, and protect 28 sexual predators, such as Defendant Butler, no matter how egregious his misconduct.
29 Defendant Intel's behavior in dismissing and rejecting her report also served as a powerful 30 reminder that reporting sexual abuse by high-level corporate executives would fall on deaf ears 31 or, as was the case here, would lead to acts of retaliation against the female victims of sexual 32 harassment.

22. Even worse, a month later, on January 23, 2020, Defendant Intel abruptly informed the Plaintiff that she was being terminated because she had incidentally admitted to having expressed a suicidal ideation about wanting to end her life. This decision to terminate was blatantly retaliatory, discriminatory and in breach of the Plaintiff's right to be accommodated. Defendant Intel's termination decision even defied the recommendations of its own medical staff, who had confirmed that suicidal ideations were treatable and had recommended that the Plaintiff undergo EMDR therapy, which is a short-term inpatient treatment lasting six weeks.

B. Background of the Victim and Abuser

23. Prior to her involvement with Defendant Intel, Plaintiff was raised in a highly conservative sheltered and religious home. Plaintiff worked extremely hard in college and earned a degree in Chemical Engineering at the University of Arizona. Her dream was to become a highly respected professional at an esteemed company such as Intel. At the time of her hiring, the Plaintiff naively believed that Defendant Intel would somehow offer a professional work environment free of sexual predators and harassment. The Plaintiff was completely unprepared to deal with the predatory behavior of Defendant Butler and the lengths that the Intel Corporation would go to coverup and downplay the sexual abuse and eliminate her from workplace.

C. Plaintiff's initial work assignment to Defendant Intel's facility in Chandler, Arizona

24. The Plaintiff's first encounter with Defendant Butler occurred in the Spring of 2013 when the Plaintiff attended college job fair. At the time, Defendant Butler was working as a recruiter for Defendant Intel. In his capacity as a recruiter, Defendant Butler was in a prime position to seek out, sexually target and lure young female candidates, such as the Plaintiff. Defendant Butler took a distinct interest in the Plaintiff and conveyed to her that he could make get her a job with Intel if she played her cards right. Defendant Butler informed the Plaintiff that he envisioned her working with him at Intel, and that he would try to use his position and authority to guarantee her hiring in the future. Defendant Butler recommended that the Plaintiff start off working with one of Defendant Intel's contractors, Meissner & Wurst aka Exyte ("M+W").

25. In August of 2013, Plaintiff was formally hired by M+W, as a Project

1 Engineer—albeit subject to the full direction and control of Defendant Intel and Defendant
2 Butler. In accordance with Defendant Butler's wishes, M+W assigned the Plaintiff to work at 3 a site in Phoenix where Defendant Butler would retain authority over her as her supervisor.

4 26. Although M+W was facing a multitude of layoffs that began early 2014, Defendant
5 Butler continually exercised his authority to allocate funding that would ensure that the 6 Plaintiff would retain her position. Defendant Butler did not take such steps to protect any 7 other employee.

8 27. The Plaintiff expected that her job would entail engaging work with a team of 9 talented fellow engineers. Instead, the Plaintiff found that she, and she alone, would be 10 stationed in the same workspace together with Defendant Butler. The workspace consisted of a 11 trailer located 20 minutes walking distance from the location where the other new hires were 12 assigned to work. There would occasionally be non-engineer construction workers in the 13 vicinity, but there were no similarly situated peers or colleagues in sight. Plaintiff recalls 14 feeling awkward and uncomfortable with being isolated while her peers and colleagues were 15 situated in a separate building located 20 minutes away.

16 28. Plaintiff recalls Defendant Butler controlled every aspect of how Plaintiff spent her 17 day. Defendant Butler segregated the Plaintiff from her peers and directed Plaintiff to perform 18 tasks that kept her under his personal control. What little work she was assigned often 19 consisted of busywork, such as making observations of construction workers at a local worksite
20 while writing down notes regarding their value added to the company. In all, the Plaintiff
21 performed approximately 30 hours per week of direct observations and other miscellaneous 22 busy work.

23 29. She was being slowly worn down by the monotony of her work assignments in 24 conjunction with her removal from her peers. The Plaintiff was completely new and simply 25 put her head down and fulfilled Defendant Butler's commands. Plaintiff increasingly found 26 herself sitting idly by during the workday for the ostensible purpose of keeping Defendant 27 Butler company. To her surprise, no Intel or M+W management personnel ever interfered or 28 even inquired as to why Defendant Butler had sidelined the Plaintiff and segregated her from 29 her peers. Moreover, by this time, the Defendant Butler had not disclosed his sexual interest or 30 intentions towards the Plaintiff. Defendant Butler seemed content to slowly set the conditions 31 that would facilitate his future sexual predations.

32 30. On April 8, 2014, and despite the lack of work and the ongoing layoffs, the Plaintiff secured a promotion at M+W thanks to Defendant Butler's influence and advocacy.

D. Predatory Behavior During Overseas Work Assignment in Ireland

31. On or about May 14, 2014, Defendant Butler informed the Plaintiff that there was an opportunity to take an official business trip to Dublin, Ireland. Defendant Butler urged the Plaintiff to travel to Ireland by playing up the importance it would have vis-à-vis her future career prospects with Intel. Using the powerful incentive of potential career advancement within Intel, Defendant Butler was able to persuade the Plaintiff to take the trip. The Plaintiff was made to believe the trip would be just a matter of weeks, with an anticipated return date on June 7, 2014.

32. Plaintiff arrived in Dublin, Ireland on May 24, 2014, the Plaintiff was uncomfortable with the fact that she had been lured into a foreign Country under suspect pretenses. To begin, she was surprised that Defendant Butler had (unbeknownst to her) travelled to Ireland the same day as the Plaintiff. Next, the Plaintiff was surprised that the trip was going to last several months — as opposed to a couple of weeks.

33. The Plaintiff experienced an overwhelming sense of dread due to the isolation and insecurity because she knew no one in Ireland and felt distress over being thousands of miles from home with no family or friends. Plaintiff was additionally concerned by the fact that there appeared to be far less work for her to do in Ireland.

34. For his part, Defendant Butler saw this overseas travel assignment as an ideal opportunity for him to further isolate and enclose the Plaintiff in his personal sphere of influence and control. He now had less eyes to watch what he was doing and would be dealing with a veritable captive audience.

35. The Plaintiff noticed that Defendant Butler had been quick to insert himself into her personal life. Defendant Butler was insistent that the Plaintiff regularly join him for dinner and drinks. These social invitations were soon accompanied by more invitations. On or about May 28, 2014, the Plaintiff recalled joining Defendant Butler for dinner. During her walk to the event, the Plaintiff noticed that Defendant Butler's demeanor had changed and that he began following her and touching her excessively. When Defendant Butler asked the Plaintiff to join him at his hotel for a drink, the Plaintiff declined and went back to her hotel.

36. Defendant Butler began to wear the Plaintiff's will down by continually pressuring her and taunting her about possibly losing her job if she did not agree to join him. Over time, the Defendant Butler's showed his true temperament and began aggressively

1 pressuring the Plaintiff to accompany him. To get her attention, Defendant Butler would say
2 "I didn't bring you to Ireland for you to blow me off." and "Are you going to be difficult or do
3 I need to shorten your contract." Over time, the constant bullying, and pressure took its toll on 4 the Plaintiff and caused her to yield and give in to his invitations.

5 37. On or about June 3, 2014, Defendant Butler concocted a story about suddenly 6 needing to change hotels due to purported lack of vacancies and relocated to the same hotel
7 where the Plaintiff had been staying. The Plaintiff verified that there were many vacancies in 8 the area. When Defendant Butler found out that the Plaintiff was sharing a room with another
9 colleague, he insisted that the Plaintiff's roommate vacate and arranged for her to secure her 10 own hotel room which he agreed to cover at the company's expense. Removing the roommate 11 was strategically important for Defendant Butler and foreshadowed his dark intentions.

12 38. Defendant Butler wasted little before letting known his intentions about the 13 Plaintiff. On or about June 5, 2014, Defendant Butler lured the Plaintiff into his hotel room 14 while he was finishing a conference call. Without warning, Defendant Butler seized the 15 Plaintiff and pressed her body against the bed while he forcibly disrobed her. The Plaintiff
16 went into a severe panic as Defendant Butler used his disproportionate physicality to restrain
17 and assault her sexually. Plaintiff tried to pull away and told him "no" but found herself
18 completely under his control. Defendant Butler started his assault by forcing his mouth on her 19 vagina and performing forcible oral sex on her. The Plaintiff recalls her body involuntarily
20 freezing and experiencing a disassociation from her body as the rape went on. The Plaintiff 21 also recalls running away from the bedroom in tears.

22 39. The Plaintiff's experience of being savagely raped was so overwhelming that she 23 was unable to mentally process the experience in a coherent way. The Plaintiff experienced 24 negative racing thoughts that consumed her and clouded her judgment. Among the multiplicity
25 of negative emotions, Plaintiff felt an especially overwhelming sense of shame and humiliation
26 over what had happened. These feelings of shame were compounded by equally powerful 27 feelings of fear of possible reprisals from Defendant Butler if she dared to say anything about 28 what happened. After weighing the situation, the Plaintiff convinced herself that Defendant Butler was far too powerful and influential to go against.

40. For his part, Defendant Butler acted as though absolutely nothing had happened.
The Plaintiff observed that Defendant Butler's behavior belied the fact that he had raped one of his subordinates. By and through his words, conduct and demeanor, Defendant Butler

1 prevailed in convincing her that it would be best for her to play along. In fact, on two separate 2 occasions, Defendant Butler warned Plaintiff that he could easily “defund” her position at 3 M&W and, further, take steps to ensure that she would have no job with Intel when she 4 returned from Ireland. At this point, Defendant became increasingly domineering and used his 5 power and leverage to coerce the Plaintiff into silently acquiescing to his sexual demands.
6 Based on the inordinate amount of pressure and the extreme isolation she faced, the Plaintiff
7 recalls feeling like little more than a captive.

8 41. The Plaintiff’s mental health seriously deteriorated in the aftermath of the rape. On 9 June 6, 2014, the Plaintiff experienced a panic attack while having dinner with an M+W
10 supervisor and Defendant Butler. The Plaintiff was unable to explain the cause of her panic
11 attack to anyone around her. The experience of having been raped broke the Plaintiff’s morale 12 to the point that she would blindly accompany Butler on command. The Plaintiff managed to 13 retain her dignity and self-respect only by bottling and repressing the incident. She had no 14 guidance on how to manage her situation and thus chose the path of least resistance.

15 42. On or about June 9, 2014, the Plaintiff went to see a doctor after she continued to 16 suffer from severe panic attacks. The Plaintiff was too afraid to speak openly with her doctor
17 over the cause of the panic attacks. On or about June 13, 2014, the Plaintiff attended a 18 company event together with Defendant Butler. During the evening, Plaintiff noticed that 19 Defendant Butler kept moving close to her and touching her excessively. Defendant Butler 20 drank heavily at the event and found an opportunity during the evening to grab Plaintiff and 21 forcefully kiss her on the mouth. She pleaded, “Please don’t,” and immediately tried to pull 22 away. Defendant Butler responded: “It’s okay. My wife won’t mind.” Defendant Butler 23 continued to grope the Plaintiff thereafter causing her to suffer a panic attack and 24 hyperventilate.

25 43. In July 2014, Defendant Butler asked the Plaintiff to join him for dinner. The 26 Plaintiff recalled that she cried hysterically and was unable to eat at the table. Defendant Butler 27 cancelled the dinner and invited her to his room with the pretense he wished to console her and 28 calm her down. During the walk to Butlers hotel room, Plaintiff made an effort to break away and run home. After entering the room, Defendant Butler forcefully grabbed the Plaintiff and pressed her down to rape her. The Plaintiff recalls crying the entire time she was being raped.
The Plaintiff also recalls being asphyxiated and unable to breathe when Defendant Butler pressed on top of her face with his chest.

44. Defendant Butler's ostensible strategy was to encourage Plaintiff to pretend that nothing traumatic had happened. In so doing, the Plaintiff internalized the trauma by bottling it up and dissociating from it. The combination of fear, anxiety and trauma from the repeated sexual abuse left Plaintiff in a vulnerable position that Defendant Butler was able to exploit for his personal ends. Once he was confident that she would remain silent about the sexual abuse, Defendant Butler was able to present the sexual quid pro quo arrangement as a means of re-framing and normalizing their "relationship." Feeling completely trapped, demoralized, and defeated, Plaintiff said nothing. The Plaintiff recalls feeling that she no choice but to yield to her abuser's aggressive overtures. Over time, the Plaintiff felt more and more like a captive in relation to her abuser. The Stockholm Syndrome best explains the thought process of victims of rape in certain. Whereas Defendant Butler had absolute control over Intel's operations, the Plaintiff held on to her position only by the grace of her abuser.

45. In October 2014, Plaintiff's assignment to Ireland ended, as did her tenure with M+W. The end of her employment with M+W prompted Defendant Butler to pull the strings necessary for Plaintiff to get a job offer from Defendant Intel.

E. Continuing Predatory Behavior in Oregon

46. On or about November 11, 2014, Plaintiff received a formal letter of employment from Defendant Intel pursuant to which she was hired by Defendant Intel on a 12-month provisional tryout basis in Defendant Intel's Recent College Graduate ("RCG") program. Defendant Butler was able to extend this provisional period by six additional months until July of 2016. The Plaintiff's effective hire date with Defendant Intel was December 1, 2015. The Plaintiff's job title at the time of hire was "Project Manager".

47. Plaintiff's initial work assignment with the Intel Corporation was to transfer to their engineering facility in Hillsboro, Oregon. Despite his being stationed in Phoenix, Arizona, Defendant Butler was able to remain on as her supervisor at Intel. Defendant Butler used his influence with Defendant Intel to justify his extended trips over to the Hillsboro, Oregon facility.

48. Defendant Butler continued to sexually harass and abuse the Plaintiff. On November 24, 2014, Defendant Butler visited the Plaintiff while she was moving her belongings out of a storage unit in preparation for her relocation. While helping her move a mattress out of the unit, Defendant Butler tipped the mattress over and gestured that he wanted

1 to have sex. Despite hearing the Plaintiff object, Defendant Butler closed the door to the 2 storage unit and violently forced himself on her.

3 49. Although Plaintiff's transfer to Oregon would seemingly allow her some space from 4 Defendant Butler, the Plaintiff worried that there would be future incidents. The Plaintiff
5 confronted Defendant Butler and begged and demanded that he promise to cease and desist all 6 sexual contact.

7 50. Defendant Butler had no intention of not pressing his sexual demands on 8 the Plaintiff. Though he was a married man, Defendant Butler was able to get away from his 9 wife without having to explain his absences other than being work related.

10 51. Defendant Butler created the false façade that he had important business to attend to 11 in Oregon which allowed him to keep close to the Plaintiff. Other personnel at the Oregon
12 facility knew full well that Defendant Butler had no business in Oregon. Defendant Butler 13 created new project or simply abruptly inserted himself into some preexisting projects. While 14 under his continued direction and control, Plaintiff found herself performing the usual
15 monotony of errands, note-taking and keeping herself occupied with other mindless busy work
16 while being isolated from her peers. Plaintiff recalled that these projects seemed to get more 17 and more nonsensical. At no point was she ever given a deadline. It was clear that Defendant 18 Butler was misusing company funds to cover the Plaintiff's expenses without any value being 19 added to the company. At any time, any other supervisor tried to give her a work assignment, 20 Defendant Butler would interject and demand that the Plaintiff be released to focus on his 21 assignments.

22 52. Much of the Plaintiff "work" simply involved her sitting idly by in an Intel 23 conference room while Defendant Butler worked. The Plaintiff felt a deep humiliation from 24 the fear that others would mock her or dismiss her as some kind of mistress.

25 53. Outside of work, Defendant Butler demanded that she cancel her plans to share an 26 apartment with roommates. Defendant Butler demanded that Plaintiff find an apartment where 27 she would live alone and be available to him.

28 54. Despite having relocated to Oregon, Plaintiff felt trapped in the same
29 subservient quid pro quo sexual relationship with Defendant Butler. Plaintiff's pleas to end
30 their sexual liaisons angered Defendant Butler and were a common source of strife. Defendant
31 Butler responded to Plaintiff's complaints about her unhappiness by mocking and ridiculing
32 her. Defendant Butler would belittle her and tell her that she was living out her own "Danielle

1 Steele" romance novel. Defendant Butler reminded her that she should be grateful to him for 2 the employment benefits that she had enjoyed, including the opportunity to travel on business, 3 staying in luxury hotels, meals at expensive restaurants and the promise of rising in the 4 company. Defendant Intel financially aided and abetted Defendant Butler's plot to keep the 5 Plaintiff as his veritably caged concubine.

6 55. On several occasions, the Plaintiff tried to seek help from therapists or counselors
7 only to have Defendant Butler intercede and demand that the Plaintiff cancel. Defendant
8 Butler somehow manipulated the Plaintiff into feeling concern for his safety.

9 56. On or about March 2, 2015, the Plaintiff recalled having an argument with Mr.
10 Butler that led to her being manhandled and raped. At the time, Defendant Butler had accused 11 the Plaintiff of engaging in sex with another man and struck her. The Plaintiff attempted to 12 escape Defendant Butler's grasp by locking herself in the closet and screaming for help. No 13 one came for help. As she tried to escape, Defendant Butler blocked the door to the exit and 14 was able to press the Plaintiff onto the ground by twisting her arm. Defendant Butler 15 repeatedly struck the Plaintiff as she tried to resist. While violently pressing her face-down on 16 the ground, Defendant Butler forcibly raped the Plaintiff.

17 57. The cumulative effect of the sexual and physical abuse caused the Plaintiff's mental 18 health to deteriorate. Plaintiff found it easier to get through the process by compartmentalizing 19 her abuse and disassociating herself as much as possible from the experience. Beginning on 20 March 11, 2015, the Plaintiff began experiencing somatic delusions and troubling 21 hallucinations about things did not exist. She recalled going to specialists to seek treatment for 22 non-existent maladies, such as warts on her skin that did not exist. In brief, the Plaintiff was 23 breaking down and losing her grip on reality.

24 58. On March 24, 2015, Defendant Butler took the Plaintiff along with him to a 25 business trip to Anaheim, California. While she was in his hotel room, Defendant Butler stated 26 that he had a surprise for her, but that she would have to cover her eyes with a blindfold.
27 Defendant Butler forcefully twisted the Plaintiff's arms behind her back and held her down
28 while he tied her down and gagged her with. Once he had her fully under control, Defendant Butler brutally raped the Plaintiff while holding his throat and slapping her and pulling her hair. The Plaintiff experienced excruciating pain and cried while she was being brutalized.
After finishing, Defendant Butler left her tied down the entire night in his hotel room. When Defendant Butler reappeared the next morning, Defendant Butler removed the gag and pressed

1 her mouth onto his blood covered penis. The Plaintiff continued to scream and begged to be 2 untied. After the incident, Defendant Butler told the Plaintiff that he simply did not know she 3 did not like being tied down and raped. Defendant Butler stated that he enjoyed the brutality 4 and thought she would also.

5 59. For her part, the Plaintiff did not enjoy the brutality. The "Anaheim" incident left 6 the Plaintiff terrified, bruised and battered. The Plaintiff was visibly injured with bruising on 7 her arm and wrists from the pressure of restraints and cut on her head from hitting the wall 8 during a scuffle.

9 60. On April 13, 2015, Defendant Butler visited the Plaintiff in her apartment in 10 Oregon. Mr. Butler accused the Plaintiff of sleeping with other men. Defendant Butler also 11 called her a "slut" and a "bitch" and forced her onto her kitchen table and raped her. When the 12 Plaintiff begged that he stop, Defendant Butler responded by becoming forceful and violent.
13 While he had her bent over, Defendant Butler claimed that he was "doing too much" for the 14 Plaintiff and that he should not.

15 61. On July 8, 2015, the Plaintiff sought assistance from a therapist for her deteriorating 16 mental health condition. Defendant Butler objected and immediately demanded she 17 discontinue all treatment. In addition, Defendant Butler instructed the Plaintiff to cancel any 18 and all appointments she had made to meet with Intel's EAP representatives. Plaintiff was 19 fearful of the repercussions of her losing her job and possible acts of violence.

20 62. On August 5, 2015, Defendant Butler pleaded with the Plaintiff to come and visit 21 him. The Plaintiff agreed on the condition that Defendant Butler promise not to expect 22 anything sexual. Defendant Butler responded that he was just hoping to watch a movie.
23 During the movie, Defendant Butler removed his pants and began masturbating in front of her.
24 Defendant Butler then grabbed the Plaintiff's hand and forced it onto his penis. The Plaintiff 25 pleaded that he stop but was unable to stop him.

26 63. On September 2, 2015, the Plaintiff was visited by Defendant Butler. The Plaintiff 27 told Defendant Butler that she did not want to see him anymore. Defendant Butler refused to 28 leave. The Plaintiff then threatened to call the police if he did not leave her apartment. In response to her threat, Defendant Butler told the Plaintiff that she would be ruining her career and her brother's career opportunities (who happened to have received an offer letter that Defendant Butler threatened to retract) if she contacted the police. When the Plaintiff asked

1 again if he would leave, Defendant Butler responded by unzipping his pants and pressed her 2 body over her couch and proceeded to rape her.

3 64. In November 2015, the Plaintiff had flown to Scottsdale, Arizona to attend a special 4 Intel corporate event known as the Employee Development Program ("EDP"). Prior to the 5 event, the Plaintiff and a team of colleagues worked together to present a joint project that they 6 had been working on. Defendant Butler had previously nominated the Plaintiff without her
7 knowing. Knowing she would be alone and close to his home in Chandler, Arizona, Defendant
8 Butler asked the Plaintiff if he could visit her hotel room in Scottsdale for the days she would 9 be staying. The Plaintiff informed Defendant Butler that she did not want him to visit her.

10 65. When the Plaintiff returned to Oregon in November 2015, Defendant Butler had 11 visited the Plaintiff's home to scream at the Plaintiff and accuse her of having sex with other 12 men during her stay in Scottsdale. The Plaintiff felt that she was in danger and ran into the 13 closet and threatened to call the police. After waiting some time, the Plaintiff exited the closet 14 and checked to make sure he had left. Defendant Butler surprised her and gave chase until he 15 was able to pin her down on the stairs. The Plaintiff continued to scream for help as he forced 16 himself inside of her while gripping her neck.

17 F. Travel Assignment to Israel

18 66. From February 2016 through September 2016, Defendant Butler traveled to Israel
19 together with Plaintiff as part of an extended work assignment. Plaintiff was still Project 20 Manager but performed none of the functions of her job classification. In fact, the Plaintiff was 21 not given any meaningful work assignments. Rather, Defendant Butler demanded that she do 22 little more than keep herself busy during the day inside their hotel room while he went out to 23 work and attend to his sexual needs in the evenings. To remind Plaintiff of the subservient 24 sexual role she was expected to fulfill, Defendant Butler made a point of reminding her that he 25 had "brought sand to the beach," in reference to the many other attractive women he saw.

26 67. In February 2016, the Plaintiff received a positive performance evaluation and was 27 given a 5-10% pay increase.

28 68. In the Spring or Summer of 2016, the Plaintiff told Defendant Butler that she did not want to continue any form of sexual relations with him. Despite being in public, Defendant Butler responded by pulling down his pants and reaching inside of her pants. The Plaintiff's pleas for help caused a crowd to form and led to the authorities being contacted. The Plaintiff

1 ran away during the commotion and returned to the hotel. The following day, Defendant Butler
2 informed the Plaintiff that he had been detained by the police and later released.

3 69. Upon the conclusion of her work assignment in Israel, on September 22, 4 2016, the Plaintiff returned home to Santa Clara, California.

5 70. In September-October 2016, the Defendant Butler texted/messaged the Plaintiff
6 incessantly with lewd sexual photos, asking that the Plaintiff travel with him. The Plaintiff
7 rejected and refused any contact. At the time, Defendant Butler was no longer her supervisor
8 and lacked the power he once held to dominate the Plaintiff's life. In response Defendant
9 Butler threatened to release videos and pictures he had taken of the Plaintiff showing her nude.

10 G. Transfer to Santa Clara

11 71. Sometime around September and October 2016, Plaintiff made a request to 12 Defendant Intel's human resources department asking that she be transferred to the "facilities"
13 side of Intel's engineering division in Santa Clara, California. The transfer to Santa Clara 14 represented the first break Plaintiff had from Defendant Butler's authority and control. Up 15 until this time, Defendant Butler had no knowledge of the transfer request and was taken 16 entirely by surprise. Being that he had few connections with the facilities side of Defendant 17 Intel's Santa Clara facility, he was unable to exert control over her.

18 72. By October 2016, the Plaintiff was granted permission to work under a new 19 supervisor at Intel's Santa Clara facility on a conditional business travel basis. The Plaintiff 20 worked on a business travel basis in the Santa Clara facility until May 2017, when she was 21 formally transferred to Intel's Santa Clara facility on a permanent basis.

22 73. In February 2017, the Plaintiff received a positive performance review and a 23 commensurate 2.5%.

24 74. The Plaintiff is informed and believes that Defendant Butler ended his employment 25 with Defendant Intel sometime in November 2017. Plaintiff is informed and believes that 26 Defendant Intel retained Defendant Butler and/or his business for contract services.

27 75. Despite being assigned to Intel's Santa Clara facility, and temporarily creating 28 space from the abuser, the Plaintiff continued to experience manifestations of trauma that were now compounded by the stresses related to the new work assignments.

76. On March 29, 2018, the Plaintiff suffered a severe breakdown that required her to become hospitalized until April 10, 2018. In April of 2018, Plaintiff entered treatment for her breakdown and requested time off. During the time she was on disability leave, Plaintiff

1 continued to suffer from severe manifestations of delusion, paranoia, suicidal ideation, 2 impaired and abnormal thinking, each of which required treatment and daily supervision from 3 family and friends. Plaintiff's conditions, including her worsening somatic delusions, which 4 led to her to go to residential treatment in Monte Nido treatment facility from September 11,
5 2018, to January 1, 2019. Plaintiff sought inpatient psychiatric treatment and, through months
6 of extensive therapy, was able to identify that the root causes of her breakdown as stemming 7 from the years of abuse she had suffered at the hands of Defendant Butler.

77. Beginning on April 18, 2019, Plaintiff requested a series of alternative 8 accommodations that she believed would permit her return to work, including, but not limited 9 to, an extension of additional time for her to recover from her traumatic medical condition and 10 additional measures, such as a service animal, additional flexibility, and changes to her work
11 environment. Defendant Intel's HR representative ignored these proposals. The Plaintiff 12 attempted to raise these alternative accommodation proposals a second time thereafter, to 13 which the Defendant Intel's HR representative flatly rejected them on the grounds that they 14 were "outdated". HR failed to consider these options in the first place and, thus, breached the 15 duty to engage in the interactive process.

78. On April 26, 2019, Defendant Intel approved the request for additional leave time 16 after receiving a certification from her health care provider.

79. On or about September 16, 2019, and while she was on disability leave, the 17 Plaintiff, with the assistance of her counsel, filed a formal complaint over the sexual abuse she 18 suffered at the hands of Defendant Butler. The Plaintiff participated in two interviews with 19 Defendant Intel's investigator, Jennifer Nakata.

80. On September 26, 2019, the Plaintiff met with Ms. Nakata to provide a factual
20 narrative supporting her complaint. In this meeting, the Plaintiff described her experience
21 being forcibly raped by Defendant Butler. The Plaintiff described how Defendant Butler used 22 threats to her employment as a means of leveraging and exploiting her vulnerabilities and fears.
23 The Plaintiff also explained how the psychological toll of her experience caused her to 24 breakdown even after her separation from Defendant Butler with her move to Santa Clara, 25 California.

81. On October 18, 2019, the Plaintiff met with the investigator Ms. Nakata to follow
26 up on the details of how Defendant Butler became progressively more violent and threatening
27 as time went on. The Plaintiff described how she had been physically attacked with a chair 28

1 and tied down and viciously raped. The Plaintiff also described her state of mind as being a 2 prisoner with no way of out of the situation. The Plaintiff noted that she had no experience or 3 training that could have helped her deal with a supervisor assaulting her, threatening her and 4 demanding that she better not contact EAP. The Plaintiff added that there was no effective
 5 training that could have prepared her to deal with a violent sexual predator such as Defendant
 6 Butler. Finally, the Plaintiff emphasized that she did not consent to the sadistic rapes that she 7 had endured. Rather, she was coerced through fear of losing her job and other consequences.

8 82. In December 2019, the Intel workplace investigator assigned to the Plaintiff's 9 complaint informed "that the investigation identified evidence that inappropriate behavior and 10 violations of company policy took place, specifically in violation of Intel's so-called Non-11 Fraternization Guideline." There was no mention by Defendant Intel confirming that 12 Defendant Butler had engaged in any form of "sexual harassment."

13 83. On January 6, 2020, the Plaintiff met and conferred with Defendant Intel's 14 designated physician regarding the ongoing accommodation issues. During this meeting, the 15 Plaintiff mentioned that she had had a suicidal ideation sometime around November 2019. In 16 response, Intel's doctor Dr. Stock, stated that suicidal ideations are treatable and that EMDR 17 treatment had been proven to be effective.

18 84. On January 21, 2020, Defendant Intel's HR representative, Angela Benavidez, 19 notified the Plaintiff that she would be terminated, effective February 2, 2020. Ms. Benavidez
 20 informed Plaintiff that this decision was final and that no further opportunity would be granted
 21 for her to return to work. Ms. Benavidez explained her decision to deny further 22 accommodations on the grounds that 22 months had elapsed, and that the Plaintiff had admitted
 23 to having suicidal ideations. In short, the termination was issued unilaterally as a fait accompli
 24 by Ms. Benavidez, leaving the Plaintiff with no opportunity to consider any alternatives.

25 85. At the time of the termination, the Plaintiff was ready willing and able to undergo 26 EMDR treatment to address her suicidal ideations, which incidentally, had been triggered by 27 the emotional trauma of going through interviews with Defendant Intel's legal investigator 28 concerning her history of sexual assaults and rapes perpetrated by Defendant Butler. As noted, Defendant Intel's own medical expert agreed that EMDR treatment would have been effective to address the issue. Plaintiff's doctor, Dr. Agnieszka Kalinowski disagreed vehemently with the decision not to engage in further interactive discussions. Dr. Dr. Kalinowski's position was that she had been working with Plaintiff for over a year and believed that the Plaintiff was 1 ready to return to work with, at most, a very brief six-week EMDR treatment. Ultimately, the 2 Plaintiff did go through with the six-week treatment and successfully addressed the suicidal

 3 ideation. Since her termination, the Plaintiff has done six weeks of EMDR treatment and, as a 4 result, experienced no such suicidal ideations and has been ready, able, and willing to return to 5 work.

6 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

7 (Retaliation - Violation of Cal. Gov't Code §12940(j))

8 (Against Defendant Intel)

9 86. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the foregoing paragraphs above as though fully 10 stated herein.

11 87. Government Code Section 12940(h), makes it unlawful for "any person" to retaliate 12 against an employee who has opposed a discriminatory practice, including sexual harassment.

13 88. Plaintiff engaged in a protected activity by submitting her verbal and written 14 complaint detailing the extent of the sexual violence and abuse she endured at the hands of 15 Defendant.

16 89. As a result of said activity, Plaintiff suffered the adverse employment action by 17 being terminated a little over a month after submitting her verbal and written complaint about 18 the abuse she suffered.

19 90. There is a causal link between Plaintiff's protected reporting of sexual harassment 20 and abuse and the adverse employment action in that the termination was issued in an abrupt 21 manner that indicated a single-minded intent to punish and eliminate the Plaintiff without 22 regard to possible accommodations and treatment.

23 91. Defendants' termination as alleged above constituted unlawful retaliation in 24 employment on account of the timing of Plaintiff's reporting of sexual harassment in violation 25 of California Government Code §12940(h) and the circumstances surrounding the 26 accommodation process being undermined.

27 92. Plaintiff filed a timely charge of discrimination with the DFEH naming each of the 28 above-named Defendants as respondents and/or in the body of the charge. Plaintiff has received notice of her right to sue in the California Superior Court pursuant to California Government Code Section 12965(b). Plaintiff filed this action within one year of the date of the "right to sue" letter received from the DFEH and has properly and timely exhausted her administrative remedies.

93. As a proximate result of the wrongful acts of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has been harmed in that Plaintiff has suffered actual, consequential and incidental financial losses, including without limitation, loss of salary and benefits, and the intangible loss of employment-related opportunities for growth in her field and damage to her professional reputation, all in an amount subject to proof at the time of trial. Plaintiff claims such amounts as damages together with prejudgment interest pursuant to Civil Code §§ 3287 and/or §3288 and/or any other provision of law providing for prejudgment interest.

94. As a proximate result of the wrongful acts of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has suffered and continues to suffer anxiety, worry, severe depression, embarrassment, humiliation, mental anguish, physical injury, and emotional distress. Plaintiff suffers from insomnia, headaches, emotional detachment, and frequent bouts of crying. Plaintiff has further experienced other physical symptoms arising from the wrongful acts of Defendants, and each of them. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon alleges that she will continue to experience said pain and physical and emotional suffering for a period in the future she cannot presently ascertain, all in an amount subject to proof at the time of trial.

95. As a proximate result of the wrongful acts of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has been forced to hire attorneys to prosecute her claims herein and has incurred and is expected to continue to incur attorneys' fees and costs in connection therewith. Plaintiff is entitled to recover such attorneys' fees and costs under California Government Code §12965(b).

96. The acts taken toward Plaintiff were carried out by Defendant Intel's managerial Employee, Defendant Butler, acting in a despicable, oppressive, fraudulent, malicious, deliberate, egregious, and inexcusable manner to injure and damage Plaintiff. Defendant Intel had advance knowledge of the unfitness of Defendant Butler and employed him with a conscious disregard for the rights or safety of others. Defendant Intel further authorized and/or ratified the wrongful conduct of Defendant Butler and others, thereby justifying an award to Plaintiff of punitive damages in a sum appropriate to punish and make an example of Defendants, and each of them.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Sex Harassment, Hostile Work Environment- Violation of Cal. Gov't Code §12940(j))
(Against All Defendants)

97. Plaintiff restates and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above allegations as though they were fully set forth herein.

98. In perpetrating the above-described action, Defendants engaged in a pattern and practice of unlawful sexual harassment in violation of FEHA, Government Code §§ 12900 et seq.

99. The FEHA codified in Government Code § 12940 makes it unlawful for an employer to sexually harass an employee. Defendant Butler, a supervisor, sexually harassed Plaintiff. The harassment was sufficiently pervasive and severe as to alter conditions of employment and to create a hostile or abusive work environment, in violation of California Government Code §12940(j).

100. The above-referenced conduct by Defendant Butler was unwelcome and offensive.

101. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that Defendant Butler's harassing conduct was based on Plaintiff's sex.

102. The conduct of Defendant Butler as described herein was malicious and oppressive, and done with willful intent to cause the Plaintiff severe emotional distress and physical distress, justifying an award of exemplary and punitive damages against the Defendant Intel.

103. As a further proximate result of the unlawful conduct of Defendant Butler against the Plaintiff, as discussed above, Plaintiff has been harmed and has suffered humiliation, mental anguish, and emotional and physical distress, and has been injured in mind and body. As a result of such unlawful conduct and consequent harm, Plaintiff has suffered damages recoverable against Defendant Intel in an amount according to which will be proven at the time of trial.

104. As a proximate result of the above-alleged wrongful acts, Plaintiff has been forced to hire attorneys to prosecute her claims herein and has incurred and is expected to continue to incur attorneys' fees and costs in connection therewith. Plaintiff is entitled to recover such attorneys' fees and costs under statute from the Defendant Intel.

105. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Butler was a supervisor of Defendant Intel acting in the course and scope of his employment. Defendant Intel is therefore liable for the above-alleged unlawful conduct of Defendant Butler against the Plaintiff.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Sex Harassment, Quid Pro Quo - Violation of Cal. Gov't Code §12940(j))

(Against All Defendants)

106. Plaintiff restates and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above allegations as though they were fully set forth herein.

107. Defendant Butler engaged in quid pro quo harassment. The conduct of Defendant Butler, as described hereinabove, constitutes quid pro quo sexual harassment, in violation of the FEHA, at California Government Code Section 12940(j). Plaintiff's quid pro quo sexual harassment claim is predicated on, among other conduct, the conditioning of her continued employment on her willingness to participate in sexual acts with Defendant Butler and/or tolerate his sexual advances and hostile work environment.

108. The above-referenced conduct by Defendant Butler was unwelcome and offensive.

109. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that Defendant Butler's harassing conduct was based on Plaintiff's sex.

110. The conduct of Defendants as described herein was malicious and oppressive and done with willful intent to cause the Plaintiff severe emotional distress and physical distress, justifying an award of exemplary and punitive damages against the Defendant Intel.

111. As a further proximate result of the unlawful conduct of Defendant Butler against the Plaintiff, as discussed above, Plaintiff has been harmed and has suffered humiliation, mental anguish, and emotional and physical distress, and has been injured in mind and body. As a result of such unlawful conduct and consequent harm, Plaintiff has suffered damages recoverable against Defendant Intel in an amount according to which will be proven at the time of trial.

112. As a proximate result of the above-alleged wrongful acts, Plaintiff has been forced to hire attorneys to prosecute her claims herein and has incurred and is expected to continue to incur attorneys' fees and costs in connection therewith. Plaintiff is entitled to recover such attorneys' fees and costs under statute from the Defendant Intel.

113. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Butler was a supervisor of Defendant Intel acting in the course and scope of his employment. Defendant Intel is therefore liable for the above-alleged unlawful conduct of Defendant Butler against the Plaintiff.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION*(Failure to Prevent Discrimination & Harassment-Violation of Cal. Gov't Code § 12940(k))*(Plaintiff against all Defendants)

114. Plaintiff restates and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above allegations as though they were fully set forth herein.

115. Defendant Intel was provided a written and verbal accounting of the extent of harassment suffered by the Plaintiff. On September 19, 2019, the Plaintiff's retained counsel provided the Defendant Intel's HR with a detailed written narrative concerning the sexual abuse and violence endured by Plaintiff at the hands of Defendant Butler. The Plaintiff also met with Defendant Intel's investigator to provide additional facts and details concerning the sexual abuse.

116. Rather than acknowledge the severity of the issue, Defendant Intel minimized and mischaracterized the matter as merely a breach of its non-fraternization policy—as opposed to acknowledging that it constituted sexual harassment and sexual violence in violation of its company rules and regulations. In so doing, Defendant Intel furthered the coverup of sexual violence perpetrated by Defendant Butler. To date, Defendant Intel has not addressed the defect in its investigator's findings. To compound the issue, the Defendant Intel terminated the Plaintiff shortly after she produced the narrative regarding the sexual violence she had been subjected to. By terminating the Plaintiff in response to her report, Defendant Intel demonstrated its animus and institutional apathy towards the Plaintiff's protected activity.

117. To Plaintiff's knowledge, no meaningful or adequate disciplinary action was taken to prevent harassment, discrimination, or retaliation against Plaintiff.

118. In violation of Cal. Gov. Code § 12940(k), Defendants and each of them, and/or their agents/employees, failed to take all reasonable steps necessary to prevent and investigate unlawful harassment or discrimination or retaliation from occurring, and to remedy such harassment, discrimination, or retaliation. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has suffered and continues to sustain substantial losses in earnings and other employment benefits in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

119. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has suffered humiliation, emotional distress, and mental pain and anguish, all to her damage in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

120. The actions of Defendants in failing to prevent harassment, discrimination, and/or retaliation against Plaintiff were carried out with malice, willfulness and/or reckless indifference to the rights of Plaintiff, with full knowledge of their unlawfulness, and with the intent to deprive. As such, Plaintiff is entitled to punitive damages for the purpose of deterring such unlawful, malicious, oppressive and/or reckless conduct.

121. Plaintiff has also incurred and continues to incur attorneys' fees and legal expenses in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Failure to Engage in the Interactive Process - Violation of Cal. Gov't Code § 12940) (Plaintiff against all Defendants)

122. Plaintiff restates and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

123. Government Code §12940(n) provides that it is unlawful for an employer to fail to engage in a timely, good faith, interactive process with the employee to determine effective reasonable accommodations, if any.

124. During her employment, Plaintiff engaged in the following, but not limited to, legally protected activities: notifying employer that she had been sexually assaulted and raped by her former supervisor, Defendant Butler, and requesting time off for the purpose of treating her severe depression and PTSD, as well as symptoms of these conditions, including suicidal ideations.

125. For its part, Defendant Intel violated its duty to engage in the good faith interactive process by summarily terminating the Plaintiff shortly after she reported the abuse, she had suffered at the hands of Defendant Butler. Defendant Intel broke with past practice by immediately ceasing and withdrawing any dialogue about treatments that would have a great likelihood of helping the Plaintiff in her recovery and return. In particular, the EMDR therapy would have been an effective treatment that could be completed with a few weeks of inpatient therapy. Defendant Intel violated its duty to engage in the good-faith interactive process by refusing to consider the alternative accommodation proposals from and/or proposing any alternative accommodations before determining that the parties were at an impasse.

126. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them,

1 Plaintiff has suffered and continues to sustain substantial losses in earnings and other
2 employment benefits in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

3 127. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them,
4 Plaintiff has suffered humiliation, a worsened physical condition, emotional distress, and
5 mental pain and anguish, all to her damage in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

6 128. In doing the acts herein alleged, Defendants, and each of them, acted with 7 oppression, fraud, malice, and in conscious disregard of Plaintiff's rights and Plaintiff is 8 therefore entitled to punitive damages in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

9 129. Plaintiff has also incurred and continues to incur attorneys' fees and legal 10 expenses in an amount according to proof at the time of trial. Plaintiff also prays for 11 reasonable costs and attorney's fees against said Defendants, as allowed by Government Code 12 § 12965 and any other applicable statutes for Plaintiff's prosecution of this action.

13 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

14 (Discrimination on the basis of Actual and/or Perceived Disability/Medical Condition – 15 Violation of Gov. Code §12940)

16 (Plaintiff against All Defendants)

17 130. Plaintiff restates and incorporates by reference each and every allegation
18 contained in the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

19 131. The FEHA in Government Code § 12940 makes it unlawful for an employer to 20 discriminate against an employee on the basis of the employee's disability/medical condition 21 and/or perceived disability/medical condition.

22 132. That Defendant Intel is an "employer" within the meaning of California 23 Government Code, § 12926.

24 133. At all times herein mentioned, Plaintiff was qualified to perform her position as 25 Senior Recruiter.

26 134. Defendants engaged in unlawful employment practices in violation of the FEHA
27 by, among other things, terminating Plaintiff on the basis of her disability, perceived disability 28 and/or medical condition.

135. Under the Government Code §12940 it is illegal to discriminate against an

1 employee with a physical disability or medical condition. Plaintiff had a disability and a 2 serious medical condition of severe depression, post-traumatic stress, somatic delusions and suicidal ideations.

3 136. Government Code § 12926(i), provides that a mental disability includes 4 having (or being regarded as having) any emotional or mental illness that limits a major life
5 activity. Here, the Plaintiff had disclosed to the Defendant's HR and doctor a variety of mental 6 conditions that constituted mental illnesses/conditions. The Plaintiff's suicidal ideations are 7 symptoms and manifestations of PTSD and severe depression, both of which are treatable 8 mental/medical conditions. For the Defendant Intel to proclaim that no accommodation would 9 have been feasible was erroneous when short-term EMDR treatment could have effectively treated the problem of suicidal ideations.

10 137. This cause of action is also based upon Government Code §12940 (n) for 11 discriminating against Plaintiff based on disability and medical condition by failing to 12 reasonably accommodate Plaintiff.

13 138. By refusing to allow the Plaintiff to undergo treatment before discharge, 14 Defendant Intel unlawfully discriminated against the Plaintiff. Plaintiff is informed and 15 believes and thereon alleges that her diagnosis of severe depression and PTSD were motivating 16 factors in Defendant Intel's decision to terminate Plaintiff. Plaintiff alleges that, if she had not 17 been diagnosed with PTSD and severe depression, and if she had not needed special 18 accommodations of disability leave to seek treatment for her suicidal ideations, she would not have been terminated.

19 139. Despite Defendant Intel's decision to summarily terminate the Plaintiff, the 20 Plaintiff continued with six weeks of inpatient EMDR treatment and successfully treated her suicidal ideations.

21 140. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them,
22 Plaintiff has suffered and continues to sustain substantial losses in earnings and other
23 employment benefits in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

24 141. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants and each of them,
25 Plaintiff has suffered humiliation, a worsened physical condition, emotional distress, and 26 mental pain and anguish, all to her damage in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

27 142. In doing the acts herein alleged, Defendants, and each of them, acted with 28

1 oppression, fraud, malice, and in conscious disregard of Plaintiff's rights and Plaintiff is
2 therefore entitled to punitive damages in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

3 143. Plaintiff has also incurred and continues to incur attorneys' fees and legal 4 expenses in an amount according to proof at the time of trial. Plaintiff also prays for
5 reasonable costs and attorney's fees against said Defendants, as allowed by California
6 Government Code § 12965 and any other applicable statutes for Plaintiff's prosecution of this 7 action. Plaintiff has also incurred and continues to incur attorneys' fees and legal 8 expenses in an amount according to proof at the time of trial. Plaintiff also prays for 9 reasonable costs and attorney's fees against said Defendants, as allowed by law.

10 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

11 (Failure to Reasonably Accommodate Disability/Medical Condition -- Govt. Code

12 §12940(m)

13 (Plaintiff against all Defendants)

14 144. Plaintiff restates and incorporates by reference each and every allegation
15 contained in the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

16 145. Government Code § 12940(m) provides that it is unlawful for an employer to fail 17 to make a reasonable accommodation for the known physical disability of an employee.

18 146. Defendant Intel failed to make a reasonable accommodation for Plaintiff's 19 known serious medical condition of PTSD and severe depression by depriving her of the 20 opportunity to undergo six weeks of EMDR treatment as recommended by Intel's physician.
21 At the time, the Defendant Intel's HR complained that the Plaintiff had expressed suicidal 22 ideations in November 2018, and that additional leave had not been effective in getting rid of 23 them. In making this determination, Defendant Intel blatantly ignored the option of allowing 24 the Plaintiff to seek EMDR treatment for her mental illness that should have been treated. For 25 the Defendants to presume that granting more leave would have been useless reflects, at best, a 26 short-sighted and willful ignorance. At the time, even Defendant Intel's doctor had approved of 27 a six-week period of inpatient EMDR treatment.

28 147. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them,
Plaintiff has suffered and continues to sustain substantial losses in earnings and other employment benefits in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

148. As a proximate result of the wrongful conduct of Defendants, and each of them,

1 Plaintiff has suffered humiliation, emotional distress, and mental pain and anguish, all to her
2 damage in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

3 149. In doing the acts herein alleged, Defendants, and each of them, acted with 4 oppression, fraud, malice, and in conscious disregard of Plaintiff's rights and Plaintiff is
5 therefore entitled to punitive damages in an amount according to proof at the time of trial.

6 150. Plaintiff has also incurred and continues to incur attorneys' fees and legal 7 expenses in an amount according to proof at the time of trial. Plaintiff also prays for
8 reasonable costs and attorney's fees against said Defendants, as allowed by California
9 Government Code § 12965 and any other applicable statutes for Plaintiff's prosecution of this 10 action.

11 EIGHTH CAUSE

12 (Sex Trafficking under Violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1591, et. Seq.) 13 (Plaintiff Against All Defendants)

14 151. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation in the preceding 15 paragraphs as if set forth fully within.

16 152. Defendant Butler, as he had done on many occasions, engaged in interstate 17 travel for Defendant Intel's business when he perpetrated numerous acts of sexual harassment, 18 rape and abuse against the Plaintiff.

19 153. Defendant Intel empowered Defendant Butler to act as its recruiter as means of 20 targeting vulnerable young female hires, such as Plaintiff.

21 154. At all relevant times, Defendant Butler understood his ability to 22 protect and advance the Plaintiff's employment with Defendant Intel was of significant 23 commercial value to Plaintiff, and Defendant Butler used promises of career advancement with 24 Defendant Intel to coerce her into performing sexual acts for him.

25 155. Defendant Butler used the promise of employment and career advancement at 26 Defendant Intel as a means of enticing the Plaintiff to join him on business trips and overseas
27 work assignments. Defendant Butler characterized overseas work assignments as valuable 28 opportunities to rise within Defendant Intel's corporate structure.

156. Defendant Butler knew that the promise of future career advancement with Intel or the use of his influence and authority on her behalf would entice Plaintiff into falling under his influence and knew that he was in a position to coerce the sexual activity he desired.

157. Defendant Butler knew that he could use threats, physical force and sexual

1 abuse against the Plaintiff in order to coerce her into unwanted sexual activity.

2 158. Defendant Butler knew that Defendant Intel's institutional apathy and animus
3 towards sexual abuse victims would greatly facilitate and advance his objective to sexually 4 abuse and exploit the Plaintiff.

5 159. Defendant Butler was also confident that Defendant Intel would materially aid 6 and assist him in his endeavor to recruit, groom and sexually assault the Plaintiff by providing 7 funding for travel and hotel expenses and by ensuring that there would be minimal, if any,
8 oversight over his activities.

9 160. Defendant Butler and Defendant Intel formed a venture as defined by 18 U.S.C.
10 § 1591 given that they constituted a "group of two or more individuals associated in fact,
11 whether or not a legal entity."

12 161. Defendant Butler benefited from participation in the venture because Defendant 13 Intel received value from Defendant Butler's services and benefited financially from his 14 continued employment.

15 162. Defendant Intel knew, or was in reckless disregard of the facts, that Defendant
16 Butler engaged in a pattern and practice of sexual misconduct with women prior to the time
17 that he raped the Plaintiff.

18 163. Defendant Intel knew, or was in reckless disregard of the facts, that it was the 19 practice of Defendant Butler to travel in interstate commerce or use the means of interstate 20 commerce to entice or recruit the Plaintiff into forced or coerced sexual acts based on the 21 promise of future career opportunities or the use of his influence in her favor.

22 164. On several occasions, Defendant Butler was able to coerce Plaintiff into 23 unwanted sexual encounters with him during his official business trips.

24 165. Defendant Intel participated in Defendant Butler's sexual misconduct by 25 knowingly providing Defendant Butler with the resources and authority to sexually target, 26 recruit and exploit young new female hires, such as the Plaintiff, and by helping to clean up 27 after and cover up complaints sexual misconduct, by, inter alia, downplaying the violent 28 incidents of rape and sexual assault as being nothing more than breaches of the non-fraternization policy and, further, retaliatorily terminating the Plaintiff after she had disclosed Defendant Butler's wrongdoing.

166. Defendant Intel paid for Defendant Butler's interstate travel and lodging

1 expenses that were incurred during business trips where sexual assaults against the Plaintiff had 2 been committed. At all relevant times, Defendant Intel perceived Defendant Butler as a top-
 3 level earner and contributor to Defendant Intel's financial success. Defendant Intel benefited
 4 from its involvement in the venture because it allowed Defendant Butler to increase the cost-
 5 efficiency of its operations. By facilitating Defendant Butler's commercial sex acts in interstate 6 commerce, Defendant Intel reaped tangible financial benefits from Defendant Butler's work at the expense of Plaintiff's suffering.

7 167. Plaintiff felt immense pressure to silently acquiesce to the sexual assaults and 8 abuse she suffered at the hands of Defendant Butler because of the negative repercussions she 9 would suffer if she challenged him.

10 168. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant Intel and Defendant Butler's 11 unlawful conduct as alleged hereinabove, the Plaintiff has suffered physical injury, severe 12 emotional distress, humiliation, embarrassment, mental and emotional distress and anxiety, economic harm and other consequential damages.

13 169. Plaintiff also seeks reasonable attorneys' fees as provided under 18 U.S. Code § 14 1595(a).

15 NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

16 (Sexual Harassment under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964) (Against Defendant Intel)

 18 paragraphs as if set forth fully within.

 20 work environment. As a result, Plaintiff was denied the opportunity to work in an employment

21 172. In addition, Defendant Butler engaged in quid pro quo harassment. The conduct 22 of Defendant Butler, as described hereinabove, constitutes quid pro quo sexual harassment, in 23 violation of Title VII. Plaintiff's quid pro quo sexual harassment claim is predicated on, among 24 other conduct, the conditioning of her continued employment on her willingness to participate 25 in sexual acts with Defendant Butler and/or tolerate his sexual advances and hostile work environment.

26 173. Defendant Intel perpetuated the hostile work environment by terminating the 27 Plaintiff in response to her report of the sexual harassment she suffered at the hands of 28 Defendant Butler.

174. The foregoing actions are in direct violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended.

176. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant Intel's unlawful discriminatory conduct in violation of Title VII, Plaintiff has suffered, and continues to suffer, severe mental anguish and emotional distress for which she is entitled to an award of monetary damages and other relief.

177. Defendant Intel's unlawful discriminatory and wrongful conduct constitutes a willful and wanton violation of Title VII, was outrageous and malicious, was intended to injure Plaintiff, and was committed with conscious disregard of Plaintiff's civil rights, entitling Plaintiff to an award of punitive damage.

178. Plaintiff also seeks reasonable attorneys' fees as permitted under 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5 (k) and any other applicable statutes for Plaintiff's prosecution of this action.
